

VanderLinden

Ensures smart, sustainable, comfortable and safe buildings.

At VanderLinden, they believe that buildings should adapt to the people who enter them. That's why they optimize buildings and properties so that they are smart, sustainable, comfortable and safe. They do this through advice, design, realisation, maintenance, management and renovation of technical installations. In short, 'Bringing building to life'.

VanderLinden relieves its customers as a total supplier in the field of technical installations and technical services in (commercial) real estate, industry and transport and logistics.
